REPRESENTATIVES

In China, Calcutta, Madras, Colombo, Kurrachee, New York, New Zealand, Manilla, New Orleans.

WE respectfully solicit the commands of Messes, General Merchants, and European Residents of Western India, to whom, from the extensive nature of our business, we can offer better terms than any other House in Bombay. Our business in Europe has for upwards FIFTY YEARS been confined to the Wine trade, and being importers on the London and Bordeaux markets, we are in the best position to meet the requirements of the Indian public.

We subjoin our LIST OF SELECTED WINES for this Market, and beg to intimate:—

1st. That we cannot execute orders for less than 1 dozen quarts, or 2 dozen pints of either one of them; Liqueurs excepted. These in not less quantities than ½ dozen pints or quarts.

2nd. That our Wines and Spirits are procurable from every respectable General Shopkeeper in Bombay and at Out-stations; they, however, fix their own selling prices for them.

3rd. That our quotations are for delivery from our Godowns, and that we do not take the risk of subsequent breakage. Nor can we undertake to deliver Wines, &c. in Bombay.

4th. That our quotations for all Sparkling Wines do NOT provide for examination of original packed Cases, or for the rejection of alleged or broken bottles likely to be found in such cases, on arrival, after a long sea voyage. We guarantee each Case to contain its full complement of sound Bottles at time of shipment, but at our prices, cannot provide for atmospheric or climatic influences; if our constituents wish us to take this risk, which affects sparkling wine more than any other, we can only do so by adding Rs. 4 per dozen quarts, and Rs. 2½ per dozen pints to our quotations.

THE NEW VICEROY'S FIRST RESOLVE.

Mr. Reuter must have done Lord Mayo injustice in the announcement that, in replying to a deputation from the East India Association, his Lordship commented on "the enormous and mazy correspondence carried on at present and expressed his firm determination to substitute action for writing." No high official, even if he had been only an Irish Secretary, would make a statement which at once reflects on the one he is to succeed, pledges the speaker to what may prove to be an impossible course, and betrays the grossest ignorance. We trust the remark referred only to the correspondence between the Governor General and Secretary of State, which is enormous if not mazy. But we fear, from the allusion to the federal system which followed it, that Lord Mayo alluded to the Government of India. If so, his attack on all his predecessors—for it is an attack—is very unjust, especially at a time when Sir John Lawrence boasts that he has no arrears and has wronged his own reputation by writing so little. The present Governor General began his administration with the resolution to reduce official correspondence, and the result is that there is a hiatus in the records, or materials for the history of India, for some twelve months, and His Excellency committed so many mistakes of detail that he was glad to fall back on the inevitable routine of the secretariats. How much more will this be the case with one whose ignorance of India is "infinite" compared with his predecessor's. Official correspondence has of late been reduced to a dangerously low point—except, perhaps, in the Public Works Department. Lord Mayo will learn in a week that there need be no collision between writing and action in India, and that the want of the former will sacrifice millions of money.—Friend of India.

YOUNG BENGAL.

We (Indian Public Opinion) have much pleasure in introducing some specimens of the style of Young Bengal's private correspondence to the public. It clearly shows how beautifully the present system of diffusing useful knowledge, and cultivating and civilising the "native mind," as enforced by a paternal Government, works. We have no time to go further into the matter, but the letters speak for themselves so unmistakeably, that it is hardly necessary to do so.

The following is an extract from a letter to an affectionate brother, which was handed over to us the other day :—

"My ever delightful Sir,—A high day, and a holiday, the longest and the summer middle. I am going to converse with your sweet eyes on the light, bless you ever my darling and bonny bairn, your welcome dated the 2nd last hand-over me yesterday the interesting subject grant me innumerable satisfaction, which can't explained by any tongue—Oh ! that this letter had wings that it might fly to reply of yours the most commodions."

This Young Bengalee has evidently been fed on Burns or Tennyson.

We assert, strange as it may appear, that the above extract is from a genuine letter. The spelling certainly does the writer considerable credit. He has probably taken a B. A. degree ; this, however, is a mere presumption on our part.

Here is another :—

"A few days since I am in receipt of your kind favor of the—I am happy to learn that you and your Dear Hearts Half are—all right. It is a matter of joy that my dear—loves me heartly (though she has not seen me during her life-time) I dont know how much more she will love me when she will have the opportunity of seeing me with her bright angelic eyes ! (sic).

And again :—

"Please for my sake give your Deary a warm kiss on her rosy chick" and so on.

This will suffice.

"THE BARBARIANS OF BOMBAY."

For the last fortnight (says the Friend of India of the 19th inst.) Bombay has presented a painful spectacle, such as Calcutta recently escaped only by a casting vote. The Justices of the Peace, who constitute the Municipality, have been voting by a majority the reduction of the house-rate to six per cent. and the imposition of transit duties not only on the goods consumed in the city, which would fall heavily on the poor, but on the whole trade of Western India of which the island is the entrepot. As usual the Native Justices, being house-owners, rejoiced to transfer the burdens which legitimately belong to them, to the shoulders of the poor and to the trade of the Presidency. It is actually proposed to tax grain for the benefit of the house-owners, at a time when the neighbouring States of Rajpootana and Central India are threatened with severe famine. This is not all. There is a municipal deficit, to extinguish which the Legislature is about to give power to raise a loan on the security of the house-rate. It is at such a time that the Native Justices deliberately reduce the value of the security on which they hope to raise a large sum, while they justify their folly by arguments, which would abolish the house-rate—that is extinguish the security—altogether. The Bombay Gazette has pointed out, with its usual ability, the injustice of making the whole trade of Western India pay toll, for this will be the result, however carefully the phraseology used may conceal the design. Ports like Kurrachee, Carwar, and Madras, which are threatened by Bombay, may well approve of the action of the Native Justices who, led by one that far surpasses Jefferson Brick in his extravagance and braggadaocio, outvoted the sensible portion of the Bench. We do not expect that Bombay will be allowed to retrograde to the position from which we are trying to rescue savage States like Rewah. The Governor lately showed that he was well aware of the barbarous and selfish character of the course now urged on the Legislature by an interested clique. Even should Sir Seymour Fitzgerald, like his predecessor, succumb to evil local influences, however, the Governor General will be the last man to allow Bombay to dip its hand more deeply into the public purse than it has already been allowed to do. The barbarians of Bombay seem to forget that the veto rests with the Governor General.

THE CIVIL FURLOUGH RULES.

The following Rules are laid down for the disposal of applications for Leave or Furlough from Officers of the Bengal Civil Service, or from Officers of the Madras or Bombay Civil Service, employed in the Presidency of Bengal, in modification of the Rules published in Notification No. 3414, dated 19th of August last :—

I.—Subject to the exigencies of the public service, Lieutenant Governors and the Chief Commissioners of Oudh and the Central Provinces are empowered to grant any leave or furlough authorized by the rules to officers serving under their respective orders.

II.—If an officer applying for leave or furlough be serving out of his own Presidency, the Local Government or Administration under which he is serving, will, if the leave or furlough be granted, inform the Government of India, Madras or Bombay, as the case may be.

III.—All applications for leave or furlough should be accompanied by a certificate from the local Accountant General, showing that the applicant is entitled to the leave asked for, and should be forwarded, through the usual channel, to the Local Government or Administration under which the officer is serving.

IV.—Except under orders of the Secretary of State, he term of leave or furlough cannot be altered without the permission of the Government or Administration by which it was granted.

V.—Every officer who obtains leave or furlough shall supply himself with a last pay certificate, and with a statement showing the pay which he is entitled to draw while absent. It shall be the duty of the local Accountant General to furnish these documents, and no leave allowances will be payable without their production.

VI.—A quarterly statement of the officers absent on furlough or special leave with the dates of the grant and expiry of such furlough or leave brought upto the 31st March, 30th June, 30th September and 31st December of each year, shall be punctually furnished by Local Governments and Administrations, to the Government of India in the Home Department.

VII.—From these quarterly returns, a register will be compiled and kept at the office of the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department, of all grants of leave or furlough, of all extensions of leave or furlough, and of all returns to duty from leave. This register will be published quarterly in the Gazette of India.

VIII.—Every officer returning to duty shall report his return to the Government of India, and to the Local Government or Administration by which his leave or furlough may have been granted.

IX.—If any Local Government or Administration shall see fit to refuse a furlough on the ground of the exigencies of the public service, it shall report such refusal for the confirmation of the Government of India.—Gazette of India, Nov. 14.

Earl Mayo proceeded to Shoeburyness on October 27 to witness a trial of the Moncrieff gun carriage on the principle barbette system, the object of the visit being to see how the principle can be applied to the coast defences of India.

A Narrow Escape.—Mdlle. Albina di Rhona, the "dancing-soubrette" who first raised the Soho playhouse to the rank of a recognised theatre, and endowed it with its present title, the "New Royalty," has lately been exposed to serious peril. Her present calling, it seems, is that of a performer of legerdemain, and at the Salle do l'Orient Brussels, she has been giving a series of performances, comprising the well-known trick of receiving uninjured the supposed contents of an apparently loaded pistol. One evening, when the weapon, after it had been handed round for the inspection of the public, was returned into her hands, she inserted her magic wand into the barrel, and felt it come in contact with an unexpected obstacle. She retired, and afterwards reappeared in a state of violent agitation. It subsequently transpired that some scoundrel among the spectators had slipped into the barrel a screw of about an inch in length, which if it had not been discovered, would have killed or seriously wounded the fair enchantress.

AN INDIAN FAIR.

The 2nd Palampore Fair, that Ballinasloe of the Punjab, has come and gone, and great was the commercial success thereof ! The riches of Central Asia were plentifully represented by acres of ponies, yaks, and wild jackasses (these latter are peculiarly useful animals). The owners, we are told, if in a tolerable good humour, deigned to answer questions as to price, &c., but did not seem anxious in the smallest degree to part with their property at any price : in fact, the only persons seemingly in the fair at all inclined to trade were the enterprising and obliging firm of Messrs. Framjee and Co., Parsee merchants, who were largely indented on. A horridly unlikely "shave" got about that the Yarkundis had brought down Rs. 70,000 in lumps of gold and silver, intending to buy up all the green tea in Kangra Valley. If this were true, they were so singularly reticent of their cash that they refused steadily to part with a pice. They turned up their curiously plain noses at the best Pekoe, pooh-poohed the Souchong, and scouted the idea of Bohea. Visitors had the honour of seeing the grandson of the Namoona of Tashkend—an awful swell ; but, ye gods, such a dirty boy ! The last thing that can be said of a person is "oh he (or she) has a dirty neck !" Now, the Namoona's neck was a very fair bed for planting mustard and cress, or any other quickly growing vegetable requiring a rich soil ! Oh, that some benevolent society would send up a few tons of the commonest yellow soap to these fearful Thibetans ! The examinations of the scholars of the Mundi School were a success on the whole. There was a private seance with one youth who was going in for a "double first" or "honours." He was fair in everything but history. His ideas about Xenophon and the ten thousand were hazy to a degree ; he confused that affair with "Sale Sahib," "Shah Soojah," and the frightful hammering we got from the Afghans in 1839. He was under the impression that Nelson commanded at Actium : and, in reply as to what opinion he had formed of Cleopatra, said—" She must have indeed been a bohut atche bebee, or the burra Lord General Sahib would never have been so spooney on her !" The Native Contingents at the Durbar, drawn up in contiguous columns at quarter distance right in front, presented a splendid appearance,—grand fellows, averaging five feet nine inches, smart and clean, as hillmen appropriately dressed in old tunics of the 42nd Highlanders (Royal Black Watch). Happily they dispensed with the kilt,—a kilted negro must be the most dreadful sight in nature. It was sorrowful to find that the profession of Christianity in no way diminishes the native's inmate love for his national musical instrument, the " tom-tom." A powerful band of these implements of torture, handled by no ordinary performers, preceded the procession of scholars through the bazaar. First and foremost rushed the "Christian" teachers in wild ecstacy—dancing, frisking, " turning wheels," and shouting for pure joy, behaving in a most unchristian-like, not to say savage, manner ! It was a terrible spectacle. The magnates of the land entertained the European community right royally. Hospitality was the order of the day.

" Although they entertained the rich, they didn't forget the poor ;
Nor was the British subaltern e'er driven from their door ?"

FAREWELL VISIT OF THE VICEROY TO THE LAWRENCE ASYLUM.

Kussowlee, 14th November.—On Wednesday the 11th I was at Sunawar to meet the Viceroy on his farewell visit to the Lawrence Asylum. He went there with his staff and several ladies. Arches were erected at several points of the road through the grounds, with inscriptions in large coloured letters tastefully arranged over them. " Health and Honour to Sir John Lawrence ;" over the first arch was " Welcome ;" and on the other side of it, as it would be of course the last on his departure, was " Farewell." After his reception by the Principal, the Rev. J. Cole, he was saluted by a guard of honour of the boys under their sergeants, and the two little guns thundered out their salute. The boys then marched to, and were formed upon their parade ground where they were wheeled into, line, ranks opened, and salute given, colours being lowered, and band playing " God save the Queen." The Viceroy walked through the ranks, and the boys then marched past, and very well, the little ones striding manfully to keep up with their bigger comrades, in slow, quick, and double time. Then wheel into line, and advance to salute. The Viceroy then addressed them, under manifest emotion, to something like the following effect :—

" Boys of the Lawrence Asylum !—This is the last visit I shall pay here ; but I shall not forget you. I have all along taken an interest in this institution, only second to that of my brother Sir Henry Lawrence who founded it. I well remember the interest he took in it, from its first foundation to almost the last hour of his life, when in his will he recommended it to the care and consideration of the Government. The Government answered to that appeal ; and as you know from that time this institution has been supported by Government, and not as previously by private subscriptions. Well, do I remember how my brother worked for those subscriptions among his relatives and friends, the sacrifices he made, the large portion of his income which he regularly devoted to this purpose. I am indeed glad to see you all looking so healthy and happy, and to hear from the principal that your general conduct has been very good. I hope that you all, boys and girls, will continue that good conduct on leaving this institution, and that wherever you go, whether into civil or military employment, you may be pointed out with pride and pleasure as young men or young women who were brought up in the Lawrence Asylum. Mr. Cole has said something to me about a week's holiday. I do not know that this is a particularly good thing to ask for you, but as Mr. Cole is responsible for your good conduct, and does not object, I suppose I can't do less on this my last visit than ask a week's holiday for you."

The Principal here asked the boys " Would you like to have this holiday ?" A hearty response left no doubt on this subject. Caps were then taken off and three hearty cheers for the Viceroy, and three more were given ; the parade was broken off, and the Viceroy and party turned to go all over the institution. The girls' school, where all the elder ones under the evidently able and admirable direction of Mr Mellor sang very sweetly and well, the girls' work-room cooking-room, dormitories, infant school, telegraph office, a most capital addition to the institution, the boys being regularly instructed to read and send messages from one room to another, the nicely ordered little chapel, and so on, all round. It was nearly dark when all had been gone over, and the Viceroy bade Mr. and Mrs. Cole good bye. A guard of honour duly awaited and saluted the Viceroy again on departing, and the band after playing the National Anthem for the royal salute, followed him through and out of the grounds playing " Auld Lang Syne."—Delhi Gazette.

UNREQUITED LOVE.

A Madras paper publishes the following melancholy tale of unrequited love :—

Poonamalee, 10th Oct.

To Captain ——

Honored Sir,—Why does my hand tremble and refuse to do its office ? Why does my head rock to and fro as if I had been suddenly struck with the palsy ? My limbs shake like the monk in Sir Walter Scott's Monastery when he saw the White Spirit ! Listen !

It is because I am like a desolate monkey in a solitary cocoanut tree, howling and wailing and sighing forth my doleful notes to the wild plain and romantic hills by which it is surrounded, but which, alas ! instead of affording me relief and comfort only echo back my plaintif cries and laugh and mock me to scorn. What words could be more expressive of the height of my disappointment and despair ? If I were to ransack the stores of the most copious languages I could furnish no image better calculated to represent the depth of my grief and the cruelty of your harsh treatment. I addressed you, honoured sir, a few days ago beseeching you in the most abject terms to take pity on me and my afflicted daughter and plead her cause with Mr. —— but as yet I have received no answer.

Oh ! sir, if you could but conceive the anxious days and nights which my daughter has since passed, your heart would relent. She has sat, Sir, for whole days together at the door watching with as much eagerness the arrival of the postman, as sailors, who wish to take a sight, watch for the first glimmering of the sun through the dark and misty fog, and, at times, sir, when she has fancied she could discern the arbiter of her fate at the end of our street her heart has palpitated with such violence that it has imparted to the house that tremulous motion so often complained of in steamers, and that dull monotonous sound indigenous, if I may so express it, to the gong : her health has declined, and her waist has dwindled away like a tallow candle in an oven, so much so that her wedding dress will have to be taken in. Her olfactory nerves have become so exceedingly delicate that she actually fainted away and went into High sterricks, at the smell of one of Mr. —— locks which he had given her for a forget-me-not.

You may perhaps, sir, be inclined to doubt whether Mr. —— ever gave her any token of his affection, but you send for him and examine his left temple you will have ocular demonstration of the fact.

This is the second time, sir, I have laid my cause before you and appealed to your humanity, and I am certain that my appeal will now be attended to, although the name of steel reminds me of swords and bayonets and daggers, yet I shall never hear it (steel) pronounced without my heart overflowing with the deepest emotions of gratitude and I shall publish forth to my friends and relatives, nay even to the whole world, from the pole to the antipodes that if ever there was a man in this life who could with any truth or sincerity sign himself " amicus humani generis" that is he whom I this day have the honour to address.—I remain, honoured sir, your most obedient servant,

(Signed) M——H——

BOMBAY.

We regret to learn that cholera has broken out seriously at Bhosawul.

A portion of the second storey of a house situated in Bhendy Bazar road fell in on Monday last. Four persons were hurt, and were sent to the Jamsetjee Hospital for treatment.

At the High Court yesterday, before the Hon. Sir Charles Sargent, Bhugwan Rana sued Purshotum Janardhun and another for Rs. 13,000, due on a promissory note. Decree was granted in favour of the plaintiff with 9 per cent. from 7th July, 6 per cent. on judgment, costs, and speedy execution.

Bhugwan Lalla and eight others were summoned to appear yesterday before Mr. Nana Morojee, at the instance of the Collector of the Certificate Tax, on a charge of having failed to take out certificates under Act 9 of 1868. They did not appear, and the Magistrate consequently ordered that warrants should be issued against them.

James Smith, master of the merchant ship Tiverton, was on Monday last charged before Mr. John Connon, at the instance of Lieutenant A. T. M. Meyer, R. N., with hoisting unlawful colours on two different occasions in port, contrary to section 54, Act 22 of 1865 of the Government of India. The defendant pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 30.

A Hindoo named Vunmally Motiram reported to the police on Saturday last that a man named Bechur Ragoonath had come to his shop and obtained cloth of the value of Rs. 106, saying it was for Mr. Manockjee Cursetjee, Second Judge of the Small Cause Court, but that on enquiry being made it had turned out that Mr. Manockjee had never authorized the man to buy anything for him.

It will be seen from an advertisement in another column that the annual fair at Mahim commences from Saturday next the 28th instant, on which day, and the two following, extra trains will frequently run on the G. I. P. Railway, between Bombay, Byculla, and Mahim, and vice versa. The time of arrival and departure of the trains, and other particulars, may be ascertained from Time Bills exhibited at the several stations.

Amongst "Notices to Correspondents" the following appears in the Indu Prakash :—" P. B.," a student in one of the Missionary Institutions in Bombay, and a candidate for Widow Marriage, is informed that, (1), he may calculate upon 50 men dining with him, and (2), that the widow is in her sixteenth year, and though not so to speak, beautiful, she is not ugly. " P. B." will do well to see the Secretary in person, and obtain any further assurance if necessary after satisfying the Secretary of his sincerity and fitness.'

The steamer Abyssinia, Captain Templeton, to Malabar Coast and Calcutta, sailed yesterday with the following passengers :—For Carwar—Mrs. Hare and Mrs. Nurse. For Calicut or Beypore—Mr. Fogerty, Mr. Cunninghan, Lieutenant and Mrs. T. On Sunday last Mr. Collingridge and Captain Bird, two gentlemen who arrived by the last mail steamer from England, were driving along, the Bhendy Bazaar road in a hack buggy. An old woman having come in front of the horse, the buggywalla pulled up the reins with a sudden jerk, and suddenly the buggy upset, throwing both gentlemen and the driver out. Captain Bird's arm was broken. Mr. Collingridge, who now resides in the Byculla Hotel, has written to the Commissioner of Police, informing him that it was a mere accident, and that the buggy driver was not at all to blame.

The Stabbing Case.—Sheer Ally Mahomed, Mirza Babazan, Goolam Ruzza Mahomed Ruzza, and Mahomed Rahim Mahomed Goolam were yesterday placed before Mr. R. H. Showell ; and the first prisoner was charged with voluntarily causing grievous hurt to Mahomed Fucker Ally, a servant in the employ of His Highness Aga Khan, by means of an instrument for stabbing or cutting, and the other three with abetment of the offence. The charge was laid under sections 109 and 326 of the Indian Penal Code. The prosecutor, whose declaration at the Jamsetjee Hospital before His Worship we published yesterday, lies there in a precarious state, and the prisoners were, therefore, remanded to jail till this day week.

Mr. Cooper yesterday appeared before the Hon. Sir Charles Sargent at the High Court for Chugunbhoy Munsookbhoy in a suit against Sha Nathoo Ruttonsey. The defendant, who was not present, had on 22nd January 1865 borrowed from the plaintiff Rs. 4,500 on a promissory note. On 15th April Rs. 100 was paid, and on 19th April a further sum of Rs. 400, leaving Rs. 4,000 still due. Interest had been calculated on this amount up to 4th December 1867, which, added to the principal, raised the sum due to Rs. 6,112, for which the suit was now brought. Interest was also claimed on this sum up to the present date. The defendant, it was proved, had been keeping out of the way. Decree for plaintiff.

The Yelverton Case—Edinburgh, October 29—The case of Mrs. Yelverton came again before the Court of Session in Edinburgh this morning. Mrs. Yelverton applied to have the former judgments of the Court and of the House of Lords set aside, on the grounds that the Scotch Court had no jurisdiction to try cases in which the parties were not resident in Scotland 40 days before citation. The Court dismissed the action, on the ground that it had no jurisdiction.

7 Officers, 4 wives, 6 children, and 421 men, will leave Poona by special train at 6-35 o'clock on the evening of the 25th instant, arriving at the Carnac Bunder at 5-10 o'clock on the morning of the 26th instant, and will embark at once in barges that will be in readiness.

THE RENEWAL OF GOVERNMENT PROMISSORY NOTES.

The Chambers of Commerce of Madras and Bombay have on several occasions represented to Government the very great inconvenience to which holders of Government promissory notes are subjected by the delay arising from the necessity of transmitting the notes to Calcutta for renewal. The Government in reply to a letter from the latter Chamber say " that any alteration of the present practice would involve a reconsideration of the agreements between the Government and the Banks. The Bank of Bengal would demand compensation, and the Banks of Madras and Bombay would look for an increased rate of payment for the additional duties imposed upon them. This alone would appear to be a sufficient reason for rejecting the proposal of the Chamber of Commerce. Besides, a similar proposal was fully discussed in 1859, when the management of the debt was in the hands of the Government, and it was rejected on the merits, on account of the risks of error and fraud, the expense involved in copying the registers which are all kept in Calcutta, and the general increase of correspondence which would follow from the interchange by every mail of advice registers of all the renewal entries, &c., made during the interval. All these reasons equally exist now. On the other hand, the inconveniences of the present system are not serious. The value of the paper is certainly not affected by the delay in having to send up to Calcutta for a new note, and the delay does not exceed the time actually taken up in the transmission by post to and fro. Under these circumstances the representation of the Chamber of Commerce, Bombay, cannot be complied with by Government."—Madras Times.

HIGH COURT.—Appellate Side.

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Warden and the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Gibbs.)

Harri Dhangar Nal, appellants, vs. Bira Dasen Nal, respondents.

Mr. Shantaram Narayen for the special appellants, and Mr. Bhairunath Mungesh for the special respondents.

This was a special appeal against the decision of A. C. Watt, Esq., Acting Assistant Judge of the District of Sattara in appeal No. 368 of 1866, reversing the decree of Vidyadhur Chintamon, Moonsiff of Khanad, in original suit No. 2,379 of 1864. The plaintiffs sued to establish their right to perform divine service at a temple, and to recover some property attached to it. The defendants denied the plaintiffs' right, as alleged, and the Moonsiff decreed for the defendants. The Assistant Judge, on appeal, held that an exhibit in the case, which purported to contain an admission in plaintiffs' favour by persons from whom defendants derived their title, was a document coming from proper custody, and more than thirty years old, and that it therefore proved itself. Resting his opinion upon this, and another document, he reversed the Moonsiff's decree and awarded the plaintiffs' claim.

The High Court delivered judgment as follows :—The Court find that the Assistant Judge was in error in holding that the exhibit No. 8 proved itself owing to its being more than thirty years old, and coming from proper custody. This is not sufficient. (Vide S. A. No. 966, of 1864) in which the rule laid down with regard to ancient documents of more than thirty years, is that they need not be proved, provided that they have been so acted upon, or brought from such a place as to offer a reasonable presumption that they were honestly and fairly obtained, and preserved for use, and are free from suspicion of dishonesty. The decree of the lower Appellate Court is therefore reversed, and the case remanded for the District Judge to determine upon the evidence already recorded in the case, whether exhibit No. 8 is admissible in evidence and on whom it is binding ; and to pass a new decree awarding costs. Decree reversed and case remanded.

It may be mentioned that special appeal No. 966 of 1864 was determined by the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Warden on the 26th June 1864, and in a great degree modified the previous rulings of the Court. In a special appeal 299 of 1868, decided on the 7th October, the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Newton adopted the ruling in the case above reported.

FIFTH CRIMINAL SESSIONS OF 1868.

FOURTH DAY : TUESDAY, 24TH NOVEMBER.

(Before the Hon'ble Sir Joseph Arnould.)

Housebreaking and Theft—Jaffer Alee Bux was charged with house-breaking by night and theft in a building.

The prosecutor, Gopal Hurgovund, resided at Chimpey Alley and his case was that he had gone out on the night of 3rd October, having a box in his house full of documents. On his return he found the house had been broken into and that the box was amissing. The police shortly afterwards apprehended the prisoner carrying the box and papers on his head. There seemed some doubt as to whether there had not been an accomplice, and the prisoner in some remarks urged that the police magistrate, Mr. Morojee, had asked why the other man had not been apprehended. His Lordship remarked that there might have been assistance rendered, but the jury had only to consider the evidence as affecting the prisoner.

The jury found the prisoner guilty of both charges.

His Lordship remarked that the prisoner from former convictions seemed to be a professional thief, and therefore it was desirable the community should be relieved of him. The local Government seemed not to take prisoners out of the country when under sentence of less than fifteen years, and so the sentence in this case would be transportation for fifteen years.

A Cheating Set of Doctors.—Crustna Dhama and Nama Suggum Barthee were charged with cheating or theft.

Mr. Macpherson appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Ferguson for the defence.

The prisoners were the gomastes—persons supposed to possess more than ordinary human powers. The prosecutrix, a woman Bhagoo, was ill of fever, and on 30th October she went to these men on their invitation to consult them as to her health. She had a gold ornament, valued at Rs. 118, round her neck, and this she gave to the first prisoner to be worshipped so as to effect her cure. He placed it before his god : and then covered it with flowers and leaves such as were used in ceremonies. Then they gave her red powder and leaves to sprinkle on her house, and directed her to return for her ornament. She placed these before her gods and expected to recover gradually, but she felt no better. She returned for her ornament that night, but the prisoners refused to give it to her as they had promised, but sold it for Rs. 100. The witnesses were cross-examined by Mr. Ferguson, and in addressing the jury the learned gentleman submitted that the evidence was so improbable that the jury could not find the prisoners guilty of the charges brought against them.

After His Lordship had summed up, the jury retired for a minute or two and then returned with a verdict finding both prisoners guilty.

His Lordship then passed sentence on each of rigorous imprisonment for three years in the County Jail.

Theft in a Building.—Succaram Suddoba and Narrayen Buchajee were charged, the former with the theft of a gold neck ornament and other valuable property belonging to Balla Narayen, and the latter for dishonestly receiving the same.

Mr. Cooper conducted the prosecution and Mr. Branson appeared for the second prisoner.

The first prisoner had been boarding at the house of the prosecutor, a goldsmith, and was in the house on the 16th September, when his wife Soonae locked up her ornaments and placed the key on a shelf. In the course of the day Soonae had occasion to leave the house and, on afterwards going to the box, found that the ornaments were missing. Information was given to the police and the property was found in the possession of the second prisoner, a goldsmith, who said he had got them from Succaram. The first prisoner it seemed had confessed the theft when accused, and when asked in Court if he had any questions to put replied that he had not—when the Judge remarked that it was perhaps the best course he could adopt.

Mr. Branson addressed the jury on behalf of the second prisoner, pointing out that there was no evidence whatever to convict him. The prisoner's conduct was free from suspicion for, on being called on, he at once handed up the property he had in his hands.

The jury acquitted the second prisoner and convicted the first, who was sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment.

The Court adjourned at 6 o'clock till next morning.

CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW NOTIONS ON MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

Sir,—Deducting 50,000 coolies and 30,000 huttites, there will remain 800,000 people of Bombay living in 22,600 houses, or an average of 35 people per house. 15,000 of these houses pay 3 lakhs for house, police, and lighting rates, or 535,000 people are taxed at 8 annas odd yearly a head. The remaining 265,000 people pay annually about Rs. 4 each towards the above rates.

I think the municipal taxation should not be increased. A tax of Rs. 4 a head on the richer classes is very high ; and the poverty of the middle classes has been conclusively shown. Reduction of expenditure ought (excuse my writing a la Sir William Mansfield) to be the order of the day. And the reduction should, I take it, be the abolition of gas-lighting. From the days of Noe has no Eastern city been lighted. In some notes on Mauritius, published the other day in the "Times of India," the writer says that every respectable family is in bed by 9 or 10 o'clock. I recollect in a city not many hundred miles away, the Superintendent, with the approbation and consent of all the well to-do and quiet citizens, gave an order that no person was to be in the streets after 9 o'clock.

The practice of lighting cities, useful where the day is often of only six hours' duration, and where the social habits of the people lead them to seek almost all recreation after dark, is, when transplanted here, an "exotic of monstrous growth," as Lord Salisbury would say.

A saving of two lakhs thus effected would do away with the necessity for town or license dues ; —Do away with lighting ; consolidate the present house, police, lighting and water (when it can be procured) rates into one house rate, payable half-yearly in advance at the Bank of Bombay ; and let the Municipality supply police and water gratis, getting a portion of the Imperial license-tax to defray the expenses of the former in part.

For any extraordinary works put a tax of one shilling on every traveller arriving and departing by ships (including Government transports), and on their crews ; also of one anna on every traveller arriving and going away by the two lines of railway, making allowances for season tickets and market people.

I believe such a tax would bring in two lakhs : and it would be for service rendered, and on expenditure, in fact the fairest imaginable ; while its collection would cost just the pay of three clerks.

CHARTERED BANK OF INDIA, AUSTRALIA, AND CHINA.

(Money Market Review, Oct. 24.)

The interim or half-yearly meeting of the shareholders of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China was held at the London Tavern, on Wednesday, under the presidency of Mr. T. A. Mitchell, M.P.

The notice calling the meeting having been read,

The Chairman said on that occasion the board of directors had to confine itself to one resolution. It was simply a half-yearly meeting for the purpose of declaring an interim dividend, and no accounts or report were submitted. The resolution he had to propose would no doubt suggest itself to the shareholders, as it had been foreshadowed in the notices published in the City article of the "Morning Post," "Times," "Daily News," and other daily papers, in accordance with a wish expressed by a shareholder at a former meeting, that so soon as the board decided upon the dividend a notification of the amount proposed should be forwarded to all the papers for publication. The board of directors had gone most carefully into the accounts, and examined the position of the bank very closely, and rose from the inspection with much gratification and renewed confidence in the bank. They were able, after a rigid inspection of the books and accounts, to declare a dividend for the half-year at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, free of income-tax. He considered that he might fairly congratulate the shareholders upon those results, and the general position of the bank, after it had passed through three years of the most unexampled panic in the East—having done so with capital intact and credit unimpaired, and that, too, while paying an honestly earned dividend of 5 per cent. The board were now in a position to increase the dividend 1 per cent. They might have proposed a higher rate of dividend, but the board thought that it would be right to begin to rebuild that which had been trenched upon, and that which they had promised to reinstate at the earliest possible moment—namely, the reserve fund. There were two essentials necessary for a bank to continue prosperous—they were credit and the reserve fund. The bank had its capital intact at the close of a crisis which was to offer a reasonable presumption that they were honestly and fairly obtained, and preserved for use, and are free from suspicion of dishonesty. The decree of the lower Appellate Court is therefore reversed, and the case remanded for the District Judge to determine upon the evidence already recorded in the case, whether exhibit No. 8 is admissible in evidence and on whom it is binding ; and to pass a new decree awarding costs. Decree reversed and case remanded.

It may be mentioned that special appeal No. 966 of 1864 was determined by the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Warden on the 26th June 1864, and in a great degree modified the previous rulings of the Court. In a special appeal 299 of 1868, decided on the 7th October, the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Newton adopted the ruling in the case above reported.

MR. MASSEY ON INDIA.

On Thursday afternoon, the 29th Oct., the Liberal candidates for Liverpool, the Right Hon. W. N. Massey and Mr. William Rathbone, addressed a meeting of the electors in the cotton salesroom-Exchange. Mr. Thomas

AN ARTIFICIAL PORT AT THE AZORES.

The Azores, a group of islands in the Atlantic ocean, belonging to the Portuguese, by which nation they were discovered in the middle of the fifteenth century, are generally but little known, although their importance, viewed in the interests of transatlantic navigation, is very considerable.

To prove their importance it will suffice to observe that the Azores, placed as they are in the middle of the Ocean, at an almost equal distance from Europe, Africa and America, lie exactly in the route which ships returning to Europe must inevitably take. In fact, ever since the discoveries of Columbus and Vascoda Gama, the Azores have become an almost indispensable touching point for all navigators obliged to take advantage of the latitude of these islands to profit by the predominant winds, and the great current of the Gulf stream, which favours their speedy return to Europe.

There are however always two sides to every question. Ships on a long voyage, which are so often in need of provisions and repairs, still avoid the Azores, where they could be amply supplied, by fear of the sudden and violent hurricanes which are met with from the end of the autumn till the spring. The English maritime Assurance Companies are so strict on this point that they positively forbid ships assured by them to touch at the Azores—this is one of their clauses.

After these short observations it will be understood how useful to all maritime nations would be the construction of an artificial port at the Azores, giving an easy and certain access at all times. It would not only be a great commercial benefit, but also a most laudable act of humanity.

This plan will soon be carried out. In the island of St. Michael, the principal, richest and most commercial of all the Azores, lying in North latitude 37° 45' 19", and longitude 25° 41' 30" West from the meridian of Greenwich, has been commenced an artificial port combining all the necessary conditions, the works of which are already far advanced.

The actual design of this construction, although it appears rather too extensive for such a small country, is to facilitate the trade of St. Michael's oranges with England, which amounts every year to two hundred and forty thousand boxes (each containing from 700 to 800 oranges), and the exportation of which, lasting through the winter months, suffers interruption caused by bad weather, the overcharge of freights, of assurance, and other exorbitant charges.

But indeed it is not only the orange trade which benefits by this amelioration. St. Michael exports every year 45 thousand quarters of corn, maize, beans, haricots, also cattle, skins, pozzolana, &c. The imports are, especially from England and Portugal, manufactures of wool, cotton, silk and thread, colonial produce, salt, iron, coal, timber, and hardware. This trade employs about five hundred vessels, and represents for exportation to the extent of from £170,000 sterl. to £200,000, st. and importation from £125,000 st. to £145,000, st. This explains the necessity of a port for commercial purposes.

But in the future, when all the works are finished, and the port is frequented by all the ships which may need to do so, it will acquire great importance: if we reflect that England alone employs in her transatlantic commerce more than eight thousand ships, tonnage nearly four millions, and that it is affirmed that at least two per cent., that is to say one hundred and sixty ships suffer much damage in a radius of ten degrees around the Azores, one can form some idea how this port would lessen much misfortune, loss, and suffering, which is now sustained.

There is yet another advantage reserved for this construction; if it becomes, as there is an idea, a station for the new trans-atlantic telegraphic cable, as projected by some English and American companies, the port of St. Michael will be a most useful touching point for ships returning to Europe, not only for provisioning, but especially for receiving instructions from Europe as to their final destination. And who knows but that it may thus become an important entrepot?

An act of the Portuguese Cortes of the 9th August 1860 authorised the construction of this port, for defraying the expenses of which, they levied a tax of 1½ per cent. ad valorem upon all articles exported or imported, and moreover ninepence on every box of oranges. They also allowed for the same purpose a subvention of 10 per cent. upon the revenue at the custom-house at Ponta Delgada.

The technical direction of the works has been confided to Sir John Rennie, an engineer well-known in England for the construction of the Plymouth breakwater. The direction and responsibility belong to a committee composed of six proprietors and principal merchants, presided over by the Prefect.

The plan of the port, designed by John Scott Tucker, and modified by Sir John Rennie consists of a breakwater stretching out in front of the town of Ponta Delgada to a length of 3,350 feet, forming a large and deep port with an easy entrance on the eastern side, and accessible to ships at all times of the year. A parapet of some yards in height composes the upper part of this breakwater, and a dry basin will be prepared in which to place any ships that may have need of it. The whole of these works will complete the port.

The breakwater is constructed of large rough blocks of basalt weighing from 6 to 8 tons each, which are piled up until the slope is in the proportion of six at the foundation to one in height. In order to place these enormous stones, there is constructed in the sea a wooden scaffolding, in parts twenty-five feet in length at a time, upon which are placed rails which communicate with quarries, situated about a mile distant; four engines drawing a considerable number of iron trucks loaded with great masses of basalt come one after another, and deposit their burden in the same place until the breakwater has attained the proper height, and the slope the required inclination. The scaffolding is then prolonged by the aid of large poles, and of divers who descend to the bottom of the sea: and the same operation of depositing the stones is repeated.

It has been remarked that the desired inclination of the slope can only be obtained by the action of the waves in bad weather. When once this inclination is acquired, the resistance of the breakwater is fully proved.

Some workshops, the motive power of which is steam, have been erected for the manufacture and repairing of all the different parts of a locomotive, for the cutting of large beams, &c. An iron foundry has also been established.

The preliminary works having occupied a long time, did not permit the commencement of the breakwater until the 28th October 1862, on which day the first waggon deposited the basalt into the Ocean. Since that time the works have not been discontinued, and now progress with great activity. During the first few years the progress was not as rapid as could have been wished, on account of the want of space in the quarry to place as many workmen as were desired.

At the end of the year 1864 the breakwater was sufficiently advanced to harbour some few ships. The English steamer "Vulture" in October 1864, and the "Ephesus" in April 1866 obtained some very important repairs in a few days, which enabled them to continue their voyage. The English schooner "Forest Fairy" having lost her masts, also profited by the shelter of the port on the 15th November 1865 to re-establish them. Other Portuguese and English vessels have also enjoyed the advantages which the part constructed already affords.

On the 31st December the length of the breakwater was one thousand eight hundred and fifty feet. In this part had been deposited six hundred and fifty-five thousand eight hundred twenty-four tons of stone. The expense up to that time has been £169,793 sterling.

It is necessary to observe that the greater part of this sum has been employed in obtaining and transporting a most expensive material, bought in England at the manufactories which furnish the material for the English Government in the construction of the Holyhead breakwater; thus for what still remains for construction there will now be economy both of time and money.

At Ponta Delgada, a city of 15,000 inhabitants, will be found some workshop for the speedy reparation of sailing and steam vessels;—a depot for coals; with all kinds of provisions in abundance at a cheap rate; excellent spring water; and every other desirable convenience and accommodation.

There are consuls and vice-consuls of all nations; a steamboat leaves for Lisbon every month; and there are several daily departures of sailing vessels for England, between the months of November and April. The charges for entering the port are small; the roadstead is accessible at all seasons.

The hotels are under good management; there is also a large hospital with good medical attendance, &c.

The climate is very agreeable, temperate, and healthy; the surrounding country picturesque; and the thermal waters of the charming valley of Furnas are much celebrated for their curative efficacy in a great number of diseases.

The above is published "for general information" in the "Bombay Government Gazette" under the signature of the Secretary to Govt. in the Marine Department.]

The whole have been carefully selected by an experienced Agent with reference to their suitability to the Indian climate.

The following can be had loose by weight:—

White Drumhead Cabbage, Crimson Beet, Radish, Turnip, French Beans and Peas may be had alone with the above packet.

H. R. B. also desires to call particular attention to the Powders below-named, which are unrivalled:—

PERSIAN INSECT POWDER.—This Powder, while perfectly enoxious to animal life, is unrivalled in the total destruction of Fleas, Beetles, Moths, and every variety of insect. For Dogs, the Powder well rubbed into their coats will immediately destroy all Fleas—a great desideratum both to Sportsmen and to Ladies; while for domestic purposes it is even more invaluable, especially for use in bed-rooms or store closets, as no Bug could live near the influence of this never failing destroyer; and to Moths it is equally destructive. In garden-houses its use is very efficacious in destroying the small Green Fly, so prejudicial to the health of plants: for this purpose some powder should be sprinkled on some red-hot wood or coal. For Beetles it is undeniably the best destroyer known, as a very small quantity sprinkled in places they most frequent will be fatal to them.

CLARENDON FAMILY HOTEL.

(NESBIT LANE, BYCULLA.)

THE present Proprietor, who has just purchased the property and effects belonging to the Clarendon Family Hotel, Bombay, takes this opportunity of inviting the attention of the Gentlemen who have heretofore patronised the Hotel, and of the public in general, to the vastly extended comforts and advantages which the Hotel, under the new Management, affords to sojourners and residents in Bombay.

The present Proprietor, in undertaking the business of the Hotel, has no aim to immediate profit, but he will endeavour steadastly to give the Hotel "a local habitation and a name" among a far wider circle than that in which it may hitherto be known. He has cheerfully made large sacrifices to carry this intention into effect. He trusts that those who visit the Hotel will be ready to testify that the execution does not fall short of the design.

The idea of "home comforts" and of the ease, free from restraint, which one enjoys at "home" has seldom been associated with Indian Hotels. The Proprietor hopes that the present Management of the Clarendon Family Hotel will remove this reproach as far as time has sanctioned. With this end in view, he will be happy to receive on most reasonable terms as many permanent residents at the Hotel as can be received without interfering with the intention to make it a home for each and all.

The Proprietor has had experience in the management of an Hotel for a number of years, and having studied the wants of European Gentlemen, he is in a position to make his Hotel all that he promises to make it. Being constantly on the premises, and attending to everything in person, he may assure his patrons that nothing that may conduce to their comfort and convenience shall be left unattended to.

The Clarendon Family Hotel possesses, among others, the following advantages:—

The Hotel premises are finely situated in the vicinity of the Byculla Railway station, while the rooms are lofty and airy, without an obstruction in any direction from buildings in the neighbourhood.

An extensive and beautiful Garden, such as no other Hotel in Bombay can boast of, surrounds the premises, the grounds in the front and rear being spacious and laid out at considerable expense and with great taste.

An abundant supply of Vehar water is available in all parts of the Hotel.

The servants have been selected with care and judgment, and all are men of experience in their profession.

The Proprietor will spare neither trouble nor expense to make the table attractive at all times. The supplies will be procured from traders of the highest respectability, whose position is a sufficient guarantee for the genuineness and excellence of their goods.

CERTIFICATES.

Certificate granted by Lord Straithnairn, G. C. B. and G. C. S. I., late Commander-in-Chief in India.

Perfectly satisfied with the Hotel, the civility and extremely obliging conduct of Mr. Framjee.

(Signed.) Hugh Rose.

Certificate granted by Lord Napier of Magdala, G. C. B. and G. C. S. I., Commander-in-Chief of Bombay.

I have found the Clarendon Hotel comfortable, and the establishment very attentive. (Signed.) R. Napier.

Certificate granted by Lieut.-Colonel R. B. Moore.

I have been here for some days on four occasions. The Proprietor and his people are particularly civil and attentive. The Hotel is quiet and clean, and there are no objectionable persons admitted. I should strongly recommend travellers giving it a trial.

(Signed.) R. B. Moore.

Colonel and Mrs. Turner remained at the Clarendon Hotel for 5 days and found it very quiet and well conducted. the Proprietor most obliging.

TREACHER & COMPANY (Limited) are exclusive wholesale and retail Agents, in this Presidency, for the superior writing and copying fluids, manufactured by Messrs. BLACKWOOD & Co., of London.

These INKS ONLY are used in the Admiralty, Colonial, and Home Departments, Foreign, Treasury, War, and all other Government Offices, and by all the leading Public Companies in London and throughout Great Britain; and are very largely exported to the Colonies.
